MACKENZIE RECOGNIZES THOMAS PECK AS A SENIOR ASSOCIATE

Portland, Oregon – Mackenzie Managing Principal Rich Mitchell is pleased to announce the recognition of Thomas Peck as a senior associate. “Thomas continually embodies the Mackenzie brand by providing high-quality service and high-performance design for our clients,” said Mitchell. “We are proud to recognize Thomas for his dedication to the firm, and being a valuable asset for Mackenzie.”

Peck is a project architect and collaborative member on Mackenzie’s mixed-use design team. He has applied his design expertise on various projects at Mackenzie for over a decade, including The Hanna, KOIN Tower Lobby, and the Third Street Project—a new mixed-use development in Lake Oswego for 10Branch. Peck brings strength to Mackenzie’s integrated design approach through his ability to engage with all team members effectively to deliver successful projects. “I’m grateful for my friends and colleagues at Mackenzie for their support, mentorship, and recognition,” said Peck. “I’m blessed to have this tremendous opportunity to continue applying my passion for design excellence to impact every project I touch in a thoughtful and meaningful way.” Peck carries a Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Oregon, as well as professional LEED credentials for building design and construction (LEED AP BD+C).
